But all night long she was tossed to and fro upon a sea of dreams. Her face burned with embarrassment and distress, and in her whole attitude so much timidity and uncertainty was displayed, that a chorus of hackmen surrounded her, and thrust their tickets in her face. In her agony she would have taken them all, had it not been for a tall, fine looking man, with the gallant, open aspect of a sailor, who had heen attracted by the evident trepidation of the young girl, and the selfish rudeness of those who surrounded her.

Palipitation of the Heart,
Pani in the pit of the stomach, or towards the right side,
Fallowness of complexion.
Depression of spirits and irritability of temper, &c.
If a case of dyspepsis should be neglected, most serious effects may ensue, for it lays the foundation for, is the incipient cause of, and very trequently terminates in consumption. I would impress upon the mind that to trifie with this disease, may be to sport with that reason which constitutes man super-emment among animal beings, or to embitter existence by adding a consciousness of foily
to the penalty of pain.
This medicene is prepared entirely from vegetable substances; the most delicate stomach can bear it couven teatly, and it is given with perfect salety, in minute doses to the most tender intants, its properties being of a trengthening and invigorating nature. It is nearly put up in bottless, with anuple directions for use.
The following testimonicals from some well known and respectable citizens of Philadelphia, are fully curroborative of the tried efficacy of the Anti Dyspeptic Elixir.

Attetsation. We, having used William's Anti-Hyspectic Elixir with the most perfect satisfaction and success, take great pleasure in recommending it to all persons suffering with thyspepsia, as we are fully convinced of its most estimable qualities in restoring the digestive powers, removing all pain and uneasiness, and imparting a healthy tone to the stomach.

PHILADRIPHIA, March 16, 1863.

Doctor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been liable to attacks of Dyspepsia; but never have I heen nor wistressingly afflicted with its symptoms, than within the last few weeks. Indigestion, nervous irritability, despondency, a sense of weigat in the stomach, and severe pains in the left side, rendering me, for the time being, truly wretened. Fortushedly, I was recommended by a friend to try your Elixir. I did so, and in test than two weeks, indigestion ceased; pain and nervous depression left me, and appetite, with mental and bodily health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed almost mir raculous, and my object in writing to you s=a hope that other persons suffering the miseries of Dyspepsia will avail themselves of your efficient remedy.

I am, dear str, yours truly.
